The Library of Congress, through its McKim Fund, commissioned Kreisleriana to commemorate the fiftieth anniversary of Fritz Kreisler's death in 1962.

Violinist Miranda Cuckson and pianist Blair McMillen gave the World Premiere of the piece on February 3, 2012 at the Coolidge Auditorium at the Library of Congress in Washington, D.C. Miranda performed the work on the violin that had been Fritz Kreisler's primary instrument, a Guarneri del Gesù that Kreisler bequeathed to the Library. Kreisleriana was substantially revised in 2014, and recorded by Miranda and Blair for an upcoming release on Bridge Records.
